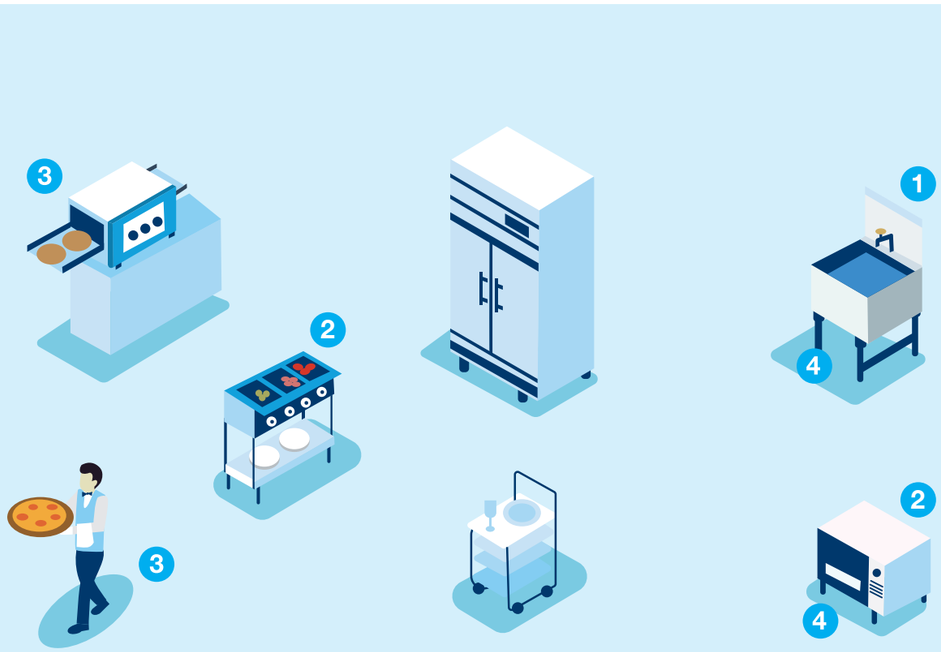
Back of house

Dispenser placement recommendations restaurant - kitchens



1 Handwashing stations

Food preparation and bar areas should have a sufficient number of designated handwashing sinks that are only used for hand hygiene. Each wash station should be equipped with soap and paper towel dispensers as well as a foot-operated waste bin.

2 Work stations

Easy access to cleaning products is simple way to keep on top of hygiene. We recommend small or portable dispensers for these crowded spaces.

3 Kitchen exit

Wait staff often needs to use a wiper or towel in the dining area. Placing a dispenser of thick, white disposable towels by the door of the kitchen allows for easy access.

4 Bins

Place them within hand's reach for convenient access. Waste bins should always have a cover.

Front of house

Dispenser placement recommendations

Reinforce hygiene through optimal dispenser placement.
Here are some guiding principles for your restaurant.

1 Entrances

Provide employees and customers the opportunity to practice good hygiene with hand hygiene stands at restaurant entrances. Post visible notices that promote proper hand hygiene and physical distancing.

2 Kitchen

Ensure there are fully stocked dispensers for soap and paper towels at handwashing sinks and smaller hygiene dispensers at individual workstations for easy access. Touch-free dispensers can reduce contamination and the spread of germs.

3 Kitchen exit

Keep a dispenser filled with white disposable towels and cleaning supplies by the kitchen door to encourage regular wiping down of the front counter where customers may be picking up orders. Also, place hand sanitizer dispensers at all doors to back-of-house rooms.

4 Front counter

Place hand sanitizer dispensers near the front counter to promote hand sanitizing between customer transactions, especially those that involve cash, which is known to spread germs. Provide one-at-a-time napkin dispensers, so customers touch only the napkins they take.

5 Washrooms

Ensure you have enough dispensers for soap, towels, tissues and hand sanitizer.

6 Waste Bins

Place covered waste bins near all dispensers to avoid paper towel waste and cross contamination. Also, place waste bins by doors, so paper towels can be used to open the door and then thrown out to reduce contamination.
